

Sexual Assault Case Investigation Awareness

Overview

This one-day awareness course in sexual assault case investigations provides an understanding into how forensic biology can assist in such cases and how it can be used at the scene and in the laboratory.

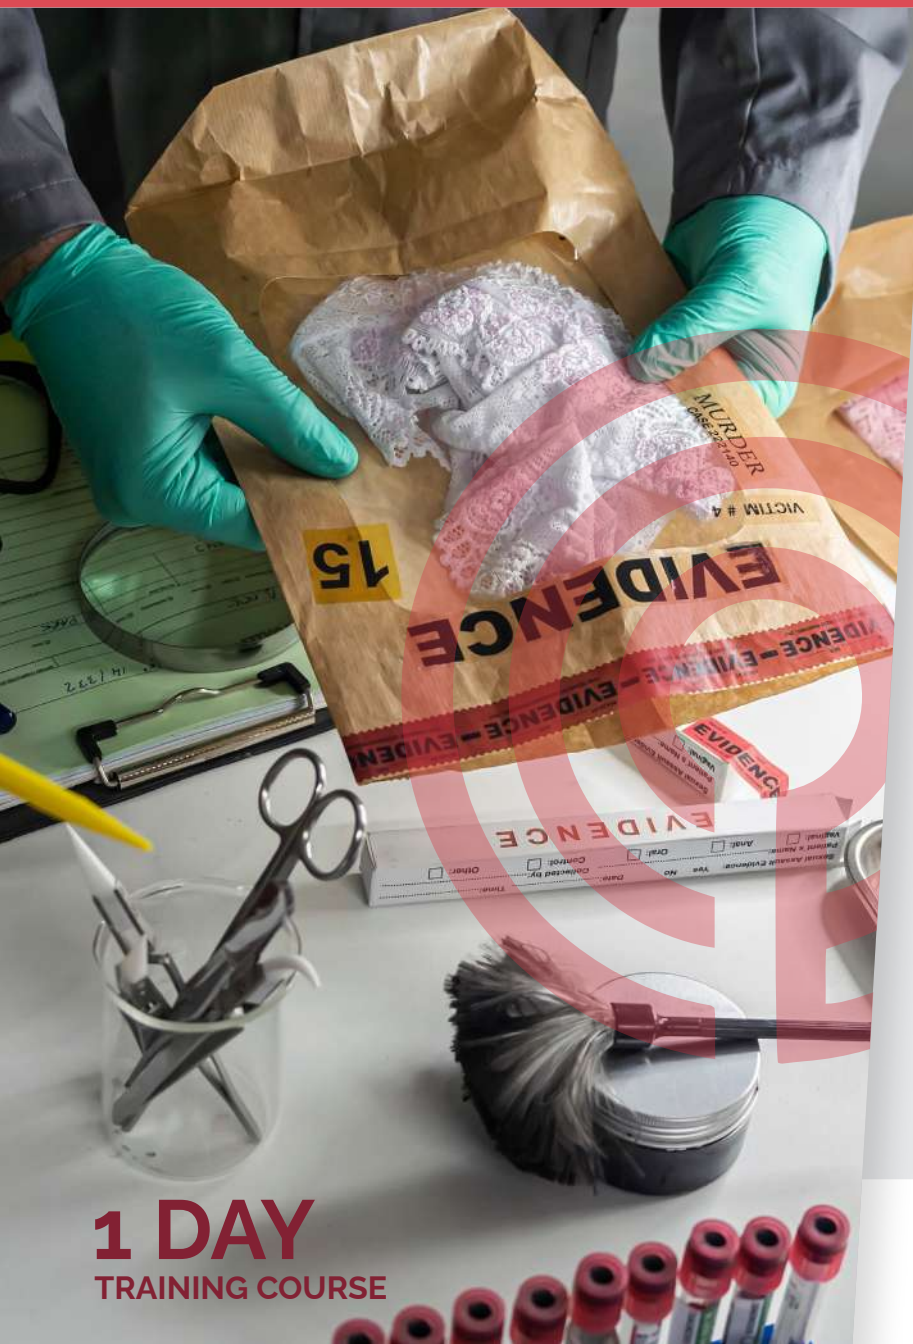

Who is this Course for?

This course is ideal for those who wish to obtain a greater awareness of the use of forensic biology in sexual assault case investigation both at the scene and in the lab.

This includes:

- Senior Investigating Officers
- Crime Scene Managers, Crime Scene / Forensic Investigators
- Scientific Support Managers / Forensic Service Managers
- Evidence Recovery Unit Scientists
- Undergraduates and Postgraduates
- Solicitors and Barristers

1 DAY
TRAINING COURSE

Course Learning Outcomes

The course will be delivered by our own highly experienced forensic biology scientists, who will provide an awareness of forensic biology and an understanding of its strengths and limitations in relevant forensic investigations.

Course Modules

The Sexual Assault Case Investigation Awareness course will include the following:

- Mixture of lecture and mock scenes
- Overall awareness of forensic biology
- Principles and theory
- Detection of different body fluids in the lab and at scenes
- Strengths and limitations
- Case examples
- DNA sampling
- How to approach a sexual assault scene

Contact our Training & Events team to book your place.

For more information including course costs, please get in touch:

 training@forensic-access-group.co.uk

 <https://www.forensic-access.co.uk>

 /company/forensic-access-limited

Clare Jarman

Senior Forensic
Scientist: Biology

Sarah Thirkell

Training Manager

Caroline Crawford

Senior Forensic
Scientist: Biology

